Day 2 – Will you be around all week?!?!

SUNDAY'S CALENDAR

8:00 am – Breakfast (Dining Hall)

9:00 am – Childcare Planning (Playground)

10:30 am – Camp Planning (Assembly Hall)

12:30 pm – Lunch (Dining Hall)

6:00 pm – Dinner (Dining Hall)

Weather: Grab Your Coat

You can keep your 'suit in your bag – not too swimmable with a high of 61°F. More on swimming (water safety) to come.

The cool will keep coming, expect a low of 43°F.

Sunshine throughout the day though – and remember the altitude! Keep the SPF handy.

Greetings, Campers!

This is a choose your own adventure... ready?

(New Campers) – Welcome to Co-op Camp. You're gonna love it! Guaranteed, or your bug spray back.

OR

(Familiar Faces) – Welcome back! Big hugs all around, and hope you're feeling back at home. You know the drill by now.

Mind the Siren (Emergency Procedure)

If you hear a continuous siren, it may be an emergency. Go immediately to the flagpole for instructions.

Bear Safety

Notice that electric wire wrapped around the dining hall? You can thank several bears last summer who had some late night cravings.

We've had sightings this summer – so please do not leave any food in your cars or out in the open. And if you're the last one to leave the Assembly Hall, please shut the doors behind you.

Friends of S. the Bear

Sadly, Spring House is not accessible to Co-op this year.

Notice some more new faces? Also in Camp Sierra, for the summer, are 11 National Forest Service rangers. This was a recent request from the Forest Service after they learned that the ranger housing in high country was destroyed by heavy snowfall. The rangers are out in the field, 8 days at a time, tracking animals and monitoring hiker campsites. The rangers are in Circle Lodge upstairs, part of Sunset Lodge and doing their cooking in the Spring House. The rangers will be in camp until at least September.

Meet the Staff

We've got a great crew this summer.

Be sure to say hello as you're walking around Camp!

Keeping Tabs

Huckleberry, Mint Chip, and Mocha(almond fudge)... oh my! Stop by the Camp Store – open every evening 7:30 pm – 9:30 pm. Afternoon hours, TBD. Stay tuned.

Don't want to carry cash? You can open a "tab" at the store. Designate who is authorized to use it. Be sure to check in Friday night and cash out if there's money left on the tab. Any remaining money will go to Camp Sierra.

World's Worst Password

Network: Ponderosa747B_2.4GHz

Must be in the vicinity of the basketball hoop, front of store, or old camp office. Spin around three times, pat your head while rubbing your belly, and think connected thoughts.

Coffee, Coffee, Coffeeeeeee!

Wow. You made it this far without caffeine. Kudos to you. Let's make sure you don't have to go through that again. If you're wondering where to find the bean – check out the store porch in the AM.

Hungry, Hungry, Hippies

Pace yourself on that bacon – we've got plenty of meals to come! Get a sneak peek (subject to change) below, but keep the drool to yourself:

Answers: At Your Service

Coming soon: a special column, featuring advice given by one of our own. Relationship questions, etiquette, general Camp philosophy – it's all there!

And if you have any burning questions that just can't wait – stay tuned for the whens and wheres on how to get said Q's A-ed.

Draggin' The Line (Dancing)

Folk Dancing will take place at an on-demand basis – if people want to dance, Molly will play the tunes. Tentatively planning on setting up shop on the floor Sunday – Tuesday (will break for the Wednesday Carnival and Thursday Auction), with the moves resuming for a little post-talent show action. See you there, or be square.

Thank goodness for muscle memory!

The Paper Pushers

Love the Pines? Lucky for you, we will be around all week? Don't love us? Well, sorry.

Where can you find these pressings of news, you ask? Well – look no further than your friendly, neighborhood dining hall. We'll have the news hot off the presses for you every AM, and some extras if you're a good Camper (who doesn't love a good puzzle?? I know I do – looking forward to inking that out now – thanks, Ken!)
