Day 5 • We can get further from it...

DAY'S CALENDAR

Agenda

8:00 AM - Breakfast (Dining Hall)
9:30 AM - Foot Strengthening & Stretching (Rec Hall)
10:00 AM - Kid's Fishing Trip (Flagpole)
10:30 AM - Ukulele Strum Along (Rec Hall)
12:30 PM - Lunch (Dining Hall)
1:00 PM - Tie-Dye Rinse (Craft Shack)
4:00 PM - Sing Along (Rec Hall)
5:00 PM - Happy Hour (tbd)
6:00 PM - Dinner (BBQ Area)
Dusk - Carnival (Playground)

WEATHER

Do you even need this? Aren't we manifesting the weather now?

High: 72 °F

Low: 51 °F

GREAT WATERPLAY OPPORTUNITIES

A reminder that the tie-dye rinse out is today! It's an all (blue) hands on deck situation, so please come rinse your tie-dye at 2pm in the Craft Shack!

SING ALONG

We could copy the same thing from the other day. But instead of "I'm My Own Grandpa" use "There Is No Such Thing As Garbage."

LOST SUNGLASSES

Jacob's prescription sunglasses are in an Oakley hard case. A sports case! A gray and black sports case. The glasses are also black. All black glasses. Sunglasses. With prescription lenses! For Jacob's eyes only. They were last seen presumably in the vicinity of King's Cabin. Any help in locating these bad boys will be appreciated! And it is the co-op thing to do.

Related: a previous pair of lost glasses (Molly's) were found today after 27 hours of searching. She is hoping to ceremoniously pass the "found glasses" karma along to Jacob. Let's all wish this comes true.

CARNIVAL TONIGHT

It's that time of week already! If you haven't done so yet and you are itching to run a booth, talk to Moriah before dinner! Because after dinner - it's Carnival!! There'll be tickets, and games, and prizes, and maybe even live music? Pole dancing?!

Also all the revenue for Carnival goes towards camperships! So be sure to make several trips to the ticket booth!

UKULELE

Let's strum and sing again like we did last summer. Let's strum again like we did this Monday. Strumming time is here. Ukulele strumming and singing will be at 10:30 AM in the Rec Hall.

BOARD GAMES

If you missed it on Monday, round 2 of Board Games happens this afternoon at 2PM. In the Rec Hall. Monday's session was an incredible mixture of mind bending strategy, card flipping animosity, and Girl Talk*. Join Corbin, learn some cool new games. It'll be great.

*Actually, Girl Talk was played MUCH later. And incited some passionate discussion and hot goss.

ALL THAT STUFF YOU CLEANED OUT OF YOUR CLOSET

AUCTION

With the auction tomorrow, Jane wants to check in with people. There are a lot of things on the porch, this is great! Sometimes though, people have items that are special and don't always disclose that. So if you have anything that has a special background or you wanna make sure it gets into the live auction and not the silent auction, please let Jane know by AS SOON AS YOU CAN before the auction OK.

DISPATCHES FROM THE TORTA REPORTA

Listen, for years the bag lunch selections have maybe been less than, say, gourmet in their selections, but the intrepid sandwich artisans working for Twin Pines have never let something like only three condiments stop them from exploring the extent of what a sandwich can contain. So it is in that spirit that we wish to share with you the latest breakthrough in sandwich artistry!

Behold banana, ham slices, Crystal brand Louisiana hot sauce! Potentially it sounds daunting - banana and ham! What is this, 17th century France!? But indeed as Elvis knew - and many conspiracy hounds have suspected - the salt tang of pork marries perfectly to the smooth potassium rich king of fruit.

The Torta Reporta is always in search of flavors that hit the whole palette at once! A veritable wallop of the taste buds! And the banana, ham, hot sauce combo between two slices of bread is one for the ages!

REVIEW OF BIG CREEK STORE

Take a drive up to the small town of Big Creek; once a thriving town when the Hydroelectric power plant was being built in the 1920s.

Enjoy delicious food at Down to Earth Bakery and Deli in the Big Creek General Store. Menu items include sandwiches, salads, nachos, burritos, and tacos with your choice of smoked brisket, chicken or pork. They also have beautiful and tasty fresh baked goods. The outdoor seating area is cute and has umbrellas for shade.

CAMP SIERRA CHARCUTERIE BOARDS FOR SALE

Wondering what serving tray to use at Happy Hour? Don't embarrass yourself with a paper plate!

Have you seen the custom made charcuterie boards in the camp store?

The White Alder boards were from fallen trees in Balsam Creek (swimming hole and Slippery Slides) milled by site holder Emery Phillips. Another site holder, Jim Coopman, designed the boards and had each laser etched with the Camp Sierra logo.

Check them out in the Store, they are selling fast! Prices range $50-$100.

FOOT STRENGTHENING AND STRETCHING

Are your dogs barking? Give those puppies a proper workout with this foot stretching and strengthening class.

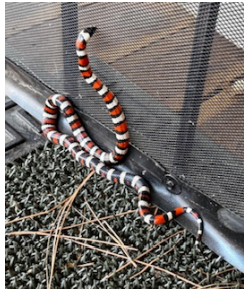

Get prepared for a day on your feet by giving them a little extra love (and learn a few other useful stretches for the rest of your body) with certified Pilates instructor Rebecca. Loose fitting or stretchy clothing recommended.

HISTORICAL HIKERS

NO KINGS

There's a king snake in Circle Up. CALM DOWN. Potentially its relative also was in the Wedel's Cabin today. Maybe he's just really early for Happy Hour.

FREE SNAKE SKIN

There is free snake skin at the bottom of the stairs of Circle Lodge (side closest to El Nido). If someone has already found it, Go King!

VIBES

There was a huge wheel of brie. And Bob Hope brought an incredibly delicious spicy slaw and a very sweet jar of apricot jam to the proceedings! Apparently the tables were all wobbly and in danger of falling over*. The vibes were incredible.

Tonight: we continue the good vibes at Fir & Oak.

FROM AN ANONYMOUS CAMPER

Pole Dancers? At sedate Co-op Camp?

A FAMILY AFFAIR

Paul, Rae & Molly Wedel cook a meal for Co-op campers each year. This gives most of the kitchen staff the night off.

Our camp staff is constantly working to keep camp running for us even outside the Dining Hall, running refills of water to the hydration stations, picking up the trash, and keeping the bathrooms (relatively) snake-free!

Plus as any long time campers can tell you the overall food quality is just incredible all week.

Of course that meant the Wedel's had a high bar to clear, luckily they came prepared with hot dogs, hot links, and cheesecake!

If you haven't already set aside a tip for Friday night or of you have to leave early you can always venmo Rae!

ASK AMY

Q: Are you still buying all that nonsense about the moon landing?

A: I don't know. I'm still in the Sea of Tranquility.

RUMOR HAS IT

Obo was spotted Uptown at 7:30 AM, revealing the secret of how he stays young.

Two lovers have been spotted frolicking in the Meadow. Identities protected... for now. By the good graces of yours Truly.

XOXO,
Co-op Confessional

JOB POSTING

Job posting: in search of person with a machete and a backhoe to fix up the potholes trail! A lovely walk for those feeling agile!

MOUNTAIN WINDS (OVERHEARD AT CAMP)

"You got a spider just to the west - or east - of Stevie Wonder! He's not a biter."

"You don't want to go to bed with your, mice??"

"There is a ZOO in Circle Up!"

"Is this a test?!? Cause you can Google that #%&!"*

"It's not a gator. It's a crocodile"

"I love naps at camp"

NATURE'S UNDERGROUND NETWORK

Did you know trees can actually talk to each other? They send messages through a secret underground network of fungi that works like nature's very first WiFi. This fungal web connects roots, letting trees share snacks and send warnings about thirsty times or pesky bugs. It's like the forest's own group chat, keeping every tree in the loop and helping the whole camp stay strong and healthy.

So while you're here at camp, remember the trees around you are quietly chatting underground through their fungal network. If you're curious to explore this wild hidden world, check out the documentary Fantastic Fungi (2019). With stunning visuals, it reveals how fungi connect and power entire forests. It also highlights the incredible benefits fungi provide to both humans and nature as a whole. Enjoy!

INTERVIEW WITH A FLASHLIGHT

Q: How do you feel about being left under pillows all day?

A: Disrespected. Forgotten. But mostly just hot.

Q: Are you ever afraid of the dark?

A: That's when I shine, baby.

HOROSCOPES

Aries: Adventure tip: follow the sound of laughter, it leads to the best spots.

Taurus: A girl named Cathy knows something about you that even you don't know.

Gemini: Be both the storm and the shelter. Just not in the same five minutes.

Cancer: Something's brewing in the sky. It might be the weather. Or feelings.

Leo: Shadows flicker with secrets. Maybe tell one or two, just to confuse 'em.

Virgo: Every acorn has a purpose. Yours might be to trip someone.

Libra: Balance your silliness with a little grace. Camp approves both.

Scorpio: Power surges in your hands. Especially when holding marshmallow sticks.

Sagittarius: The thrill of the unknown awaits. Also, the Happy Hour mystery dip.

Capricorn: Climb high, dream big, pack snacks.

Aquarius: All signs point to weirdness. Follow them.

Pisces: Sleep with one eye open. Not for danger, just for the stars.

THE CRISP (HILLSTONE) MARTINI

TSAN'S DRINK OF THE DAY

Raise your hand if you've never had a martini in your life, but are considering taking up drinking them, just so you're giving more David Niven and Audrey Hepburn. Martinis turn your Birkenstocks into Cole Haan driving shoes (the ones with the lambskin leather) and make watching Talladega Nights like an 8 1/2 viewing.

Let's get a few things straight: first, if you are a martini drinker, this is not a martini. I don't know why they call it that. It is, however, a darn good libation for summer and won't knock you on your petard when it's 80 degrees at high altitude. Recently, the manchild and I sampled both the booze-infused and zero proof versions and gave them a L'Occitane manicured thumbs up.

Second, the recipe below for the alcohol version is the original, but I reduce the elderflower liquor, because I like my cocktails like I like my girlfriends: light and fun, but a little on the bitter side (I do not like my boyfriends bitter). Third, if you want to try this, but don't care for Niven or Hepburn and just want to remain the dirtbag hippie you are, just use box wine and Costco gin. Here goes:

Boozy version

1.5 oz Gin

1 oz St. Germain elderflower liqueur

0.5 oz Fresh lemon juice

1 oz Sauvignon Blanc

Put first three ingredients in a shaker (I only use .5 oz of St. Germain) and shake until ice cold. Pour into martini glass and top with ice cold Sauvignon Blanc. Garnish with a lemon twist and a smoking jacket (optional).

Zero Proof version

1.5 oz. Seedlip Garden 108

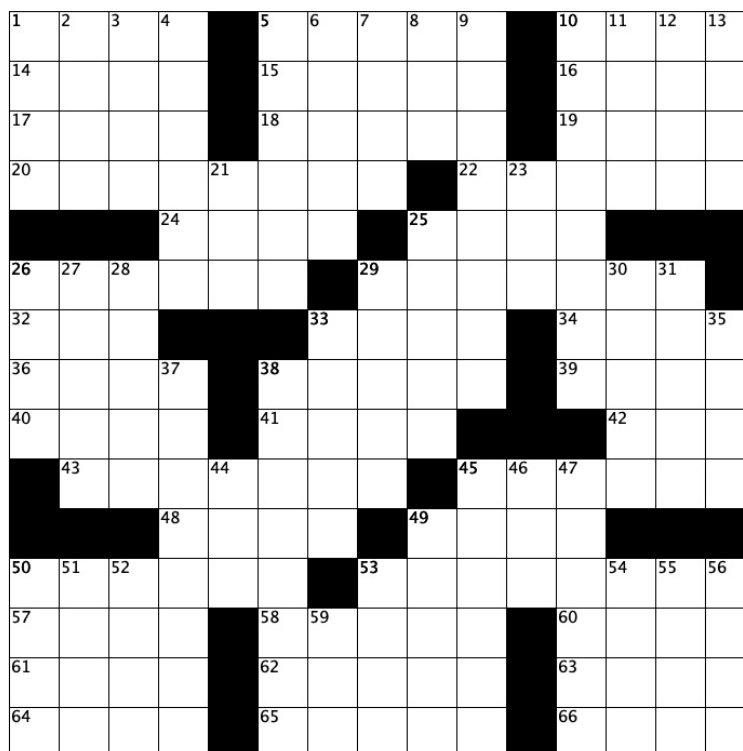

1.5 oz fresh lemonade

1 oz Elderflower Tonic water

Shake together first two ingredient until ice cold. Pour into martini glass and top with elderflower tonic. Garnish with a lemon twist, and clear thinking.
