Late Press: Welcome Edition

EVENING CALENDAR

6:00 PM - Dinner (Dining Hall)
8:00 PM - All Camp Meeting (Rec Hall)
9:30(ish) PM - Folk Dancing

ALL CAMP MEETING

Annual Saturday night "groundhog day" meeting. No article provided, because no article needed. Be there 8 pm (unless you hear otherwise re: timing).

WHAT CAR?

I know after that long ride you're itching to be done with the car for a week! Feel free to pull up to your cabin and unload, but as soon as you're done, please put it up in the parking area. And just for clarity, that doesn't include the basketball court, in front of the store, or the side of the playground.

EMERGENCY PROCEDURES

If you hear a siren, please report to the flagpole.

... MISSED IT BY ONE

With our collective circannual rhythms fully grooving, we're in for a great week of Co-op Camp - promise and hope is in the air!

Big welcome back all returning and new Campers! As usual, many of your favorite events will be available, and hopefully some new ones will be thought up. Hopefully you can come to the planning meeting to help out - details to come in our next edition.

DON'T BURN, BABY, BURN

The BBQ area and fire pit are the only areas where smoking is allowed. No candles or open flames - we love Smokey, but hope for only social visits this week!

SNIFF THIS: CAMP SMELLS BETTER FOR A REASON

When you're at camp, everything just smells... better. That's not your imagination! your sense of smell really does sharpen in the great outdoors. Away from the noise and pollution of cities, your nose isn't overwhelmed by car exhaust, cleaning products, or that mysterious locker room funk. Clean air gives your brain more bandwidth to notice the earthy scent of pine needles, the smoky campfire, or that unmistakable "someone just opened the syrup" aroma drifting from the dining hall.

It also helps that many of the smells around camp come from nature's built-in scent bombs. Trees release oils called phytoncides, which not only smell amazing but can actually boost your mood and lower stress. So if you've ever taken a deep breath during a hike and felt instantly calm, science says you're not just being dramatic, you're actually getting a natural dose of forest therapy.

THE FUTURE IS IN YOUR HANDS

Take your recycling home. Pack it in, pack it out. Think Burning Man. You brought it out here, bring it home with you. Leave the forest the way you found it (or better)!

Oh, and by the way, if you bump into a stray piece of litter (or something else inappropriate for the forest), take it out. Be mindful, this part of the forest is trying to heal itself from the fire, so let's not give it our garbage to work with.

WHY WIFI?

How bout you think twice before you take out your phone? But on that third thought, here's the info on the WiFi.

Network: Camp Sierra Guest
No password required.

Generally reaches the upper camp area, and is strongest by the Store Porch.

WAITING TO HEAR FROM YA

We're shooting for a week of good news here. Let's see what you got to say: send us your words, send us your pictures!

EIGHT ARTICLES A WEEK

Come on back every morning for all your Pines favorites: daily crossword puzzle, Camp coloring, and more!!

And remember, we'll still be digging on James Brown....

WHAT'S THE SCOPE?

Aries: You've arrived. The trees have been whispering about you. Mostly good things.

Taurus: Your energy enters camp five minutes before you do. Try not to break anything yet.

Gemini: Camp is a playground for your soul. Just don't get caught climbing the flagpole.

Cancer: You're ready to lead the way, just don't forget where you put your water bottle.

Leo: Someone might "borrow" your snack. Make peace with the squirrels.

Virgo: Your feelings are big today, just like the lake. Dip your toes in both.

Libra: Balance is key. Like bug spray on one hand and a s'more in the other.

Scorpio: Your creativity sparkles! Try out that silly camp idea and watch it grow.

Sagittarius: You will chase a butterfly and find enlightenment. Or trip. Both are valid.

Capricorn: You stare into the lake. The lake stares back. It's impressed.

Aquarius: A cool breeze carries change. And someone's towel.

Pisces: You're made of 70% water and 30% summer dreams.

SHHHHHHH....

As is the custom, Camp enjoys a quiet hour from 10PM - 7 AM. Thank you in advance for your cooperation!

AMY THE EIGHTBALL

The first question put to Amy this week was: "is ice cream every night an extravagance?" Tune in tomorrow to see Amy's answer!

INTERVIEW WITH A BACKPACK

Q: What's your secret to handling all that weight?

A: Emotional support is my strongest strap. Also, snacks. Definitely snacks.

Q: Any advice for campers?

A: Pack light. But don't forget to carry your sense of adventure.
