

Twine Spines

Monday • June 23, 2025

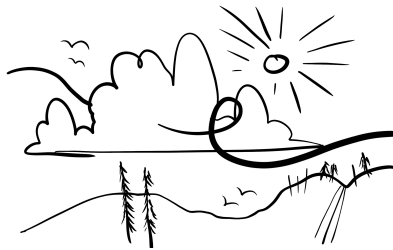

Day 3 • Ignore the various plot holes...

DAY'S CALENDAR

7:00 AM - Co-op Fitness (Rec Hall)
8:00 AM - Breakfast (Dining Hall)
9:30 AM - Current Events Discussion (Rec Hall)
10:30 AM - Ukulele Strum Along (Rec Hall)
12:30 PM - Lunch (Dining Hall)
1:00 PM - Tie-Dye (Craft Shack)
1:00 PM - Candle Making (Craft Shack)
2:00 PM - Board Games (Rec Hall)
4:00 PM - Sing Along (Rec Hall)
5:00 PM - Happy Hour (Double Lodge)
6:00 PM - Dinner (Dining Hall)
7:30 PM - Salsa/Bachata Lesson + Folk Dancing

WEATHER

High: 61 °F
Low: 45 °F

CO-OP FITNESS

Trying to get ripped, swole, or just get your sweat on (to the tune of music)?! All ages and fitness levels welcome!

BIG CREEK POOL HOURS

We're feeling these out. Last year it was Mon-Wed-Fri from 1 to 4PM. Someone (possibly Victor) knows the hours of operation but staff is unable yet to confirm.

CURRENT EVENTS DISCUSSION

We'll go around the circle twice and each give our thoughts, ideas, and passions about current events. Then open a discussion.

BOARD GAMES

We have a whole lot of board games, bring more if you want! Any level of board-gaming is welcome. Come join in the Rec Hall, ready to play.

CANDLE MAKING

This is happening: David L has been collecting weird votive holders and old cans of tinned fish (they're clean we swear) and will be making candles if you are interested in joining. Under no circumstance should you light the candles you make; candles are for collecting and display... not use! But by all means you should make a candle for your own collection! It will be great.

UKULELE STRUMMING AND SINGING

Ukulele Strumming and singing will be on Monday and Wednesday at 10:30 am at the Rec Hall. We have extra ukuleles to share. Beginners are welcome. Give it a try.
-Rodney

SING ALONG

Come along to sing with us, everyone is welcome! Doesn't matter if you think you can't sing. We'll be taking inspiration from the Rise Up Singing book, everyone will choose songs and we'll sing them together. (Unless you try to suggest really cool songs like I'm My Own Grandpa which Victor will not let us sing!)

COLOR ME TIE-DYE

You know it, you love it, you're probably wearing it! Starting at 1 and going until everything you own is satisfactorily psychedelic (roughly 5PM) out in front of the craft shack. Ellen Davis will be providing the sweet dyes that make your clothes so fly. And Amy Carlstad will soda ash guru letting you know when the setting (an essential tie dye element) is go! So bring your stained socks, your fresh bedsheets, and possibly a brand new camp shirt (more info on that front to come!)

DESPERATELY SEEKING TABOO!

Anyone else love Taboo? (The game). If you've brought one to camp please see Naomi or Maya (big Maya, not little Maya), to share the good news and help plan a game.

RESURFACING OF DAM

Unofficially (from friends who work at Edison): they will not be letting water out of the dam for 2 years while they work on repairs. That means a safe level and warm water at the potholes for the summer!

FROM AN ANONYMOUS CAMPER

The Mysterious Camp Sierra Pole Dancers are coming this Friday...think Burlesque!

DINING HALL EXPERIENCE

Camp Sierra operates its own water and sewer system, under the oversight of a certified Water Master. The water system is monitored according to State of California requirements and the water is tested on a regular basis. So all water is safe to drink. But filtered water tastes even better. The water and ice served in the pitchers on each table are filtered. The water on the store porch at the "Hydration Station" is also filtered.

Now, what do you do with the pitcher of water left at the end of the meal? If you are the last person to leave your table, please bring the pitchers to the serving counter. The staff empty them on the flowers pots in front of the dining hall, if needed.

And speaking of being the last person to leave the table... please make sure EVERYTHING is cleared EXCEPT unused glasses that are turned upside down. And if you're the parent of kids who choose to eat with other kids, please make sure they are cleaning their table.

Co-op campers do a pretty good job, so just a little extra attention will make it even easier for staff to clean the dining room.

Thank you!

CAMP SIERRA'S ANSWER TO MONUMENT VALLEY

A WIZARD IN THE FOREST

Wizard is the most profound of profoundest card games! But it is NOT what you think.... Because it's got Trump in it. We often think about renaming parts. In a certain way, Wizard is kind of a combination of hearts and bridge. It's a bidding game.

Check it out - if you spot a game, jump in! It's fun!

THERE'S A LOG IN THE POTHOLE!

Nuff said.

Be careful jumping into the big pool.

There is a submerged log.

WHERE IS LENORE??

Lenore is sorely missing this year at Coop Camp. There are those who are missing her early morning Coffee gigs on the store porch, and others who are missing her voice in our multi-part harmonies. Some are missing her plucky style and can-do attitude. Others are missing her warmth and hugs and deep conversations. Still, we would not despair were we to realize that Lenore is absent this year because she is on a tour that sounds like a once in a lifetime opportunity.

Lenore is traveling with folks from her synagogue and adjacent church on a Civil Rights tour in the south, visiting such notable cities and landmarks, as Montgomery, Selma, Birmingham and Memphis. They will stop off at synagogues and churches, such as Dexter Ave. King Baptist Church where MLK was pastor for several years. Also of interest is the tour company, Meiji tours, which offers socially conscious tours and is headed by an Israeli and Palestinian team. We will miss Lenore (and she us!), but hopefully we will get to hear stories of her inspiring experience on this tour.

-Naomi

START OF CRAFTS

Crafts are starting.

For real though there's tons of crafts in the craft shack and plenty of instructions including reference Youtube videos potentially? Mary Sue, resident craft expert has been taping helpful info around so that you can help yourself to some cool crafting anytime any place but actually not any place specifically the craft shack.

WILL THE REAL LEANING CEDAR PLEASE STAND UP??

Do you have $10,000? That is the current quote number for removing the trees keeping us out of our sweet sweet Meadow Lodge. As of now two trees have decided to cozy up to the legendary lodge kicking long-time Meadowheads out of their classic digs and into the fresh (and occasionally frightening, porch-wise) world of Sunset. Listen we all want Meadow, if just so Steve Macari can hang out in the dorms again! So please if you are/or know someone with a spare 10k lets get to sawing those logs already. (Ed. Note. Please do not attempt to saw any logs, Camp will hire a professional service when the figure is reached).

MOUNTAIN WINDS (OVERHEARD AT CAMP)

"I never know how to greet you....last night he gave me the finger treatment!"

"After I talk THIS, we can talk about THAT!"

SAVE THE DATE CO-OP 2026: EVENT SERIES

Investing Workshop 101 with Charlie Sierra (aka how to choose the best tree, shed or shrub to bury your money under). No date at this time, guess you have to keep reading the paper to find out when it is.

BED EXERCISES - HOT TIPS

No, this is not an x-rated expose. It's a simple method to get into shape and never having to get on (or off!) the floor. Forget those Yoga mats that don't cushion the bones or protect the body. If your bones are as old as mine, you might just benefit from my exercise routine that utilizes the wall, the table, the doorway and best of all, THE BED (or couch, as the case may be.) In other words, anything but the floor (god forbid!)

See Naomi to find out more and possibly arrange a few pointers.

WHY WE SAY "SLEEP TIGHT"

The phrase "sleep tight" comes from way back when mattresses didn't have fancy springs or foam. Instead, they rested on ropes stretched tight across a wooden frame, kind of like the best kind of camp hammock, but less relaxing and more creaky. If the ropes weren't pulled tight before bed, the mattress would sag, making for a seriously lumpy night. So, tightening those ropes was the secret to a good, cozy sleep.

Nowadays, we don't have to wrestle with ropes to catch some Z's at camp (thankfully!), but when someone tells you to "sleep tight," it's like a campfire wish for your bed to be comfy and snug. Ready for you to dream about the day's adventures without any sagging surprises.

BAY AREA CORRESPONDENTS REPORT ON BASKETBALL

WNBA | Valkyries Overshadow The Sun

The San Francisco Valkyries crushed the Connecticut Sun 87-63, improving to 7-6. With C. Leite sidelined (back injury), Bay Area native Kaitlyn Chen seized the spotlight at home. Several short-term Valks got minutes—K. Chen (20 min), A. Powers (4 min), B. Hall (3 min). True to form, the team scrapped for 51 rebounds and 9 steals. Player of the game? The towel crew, as always. The Chase Center floor was so dry you could hear the squeaks from camp. The ball itself was the new territory for our towel heroes, and had to be wiped twice. In the fourth quarter, a quick towel stack saved the floor from a nose-bloody mess. MVP behavior.

NBA | Some Men Played Too

Apparently there's also a men's league (MNBA?). They had a decent game: Game 7, tied series. Tyrese Haliburton went down early, and despite a tight first half, OKC ran away with it in the fourth quarter, snagging their first title in 17 years.

...and spend some time at the Potholes!

COMING FULL CIRCLE

If you read about the big updates to Circle and are wondering who to thank, wonder no more! This labor of love was made feasible through a generous donation from the fourth-generation site holders, Ann and Bill Walzberg (Ann previously served as board president). Board member Russ Aubuchon, a skilled craftsman, generously contributed his labor and did the majority of the renovations. He personally crafted the doors and partitions. He was assisted by his wife, Linda, who meticulously selected the finishes and helped with a lot of the dirty work too. Another board member and contractor, Doug MacNeill, donated his labor as well.

INTERVIEW WITH A ROPE

Q: What's your relationship with knots?

A: I tie the room together, but I always avoid knot-ty drama. Keeps things loose and fun.

Q: Biggest fear?

A: Being replaced by Velcro. Where's the romance in that?

ASK AMY

Do you feel the national forest needs to be raked on a continual basis?

Weekly... deploy the National Guard!

CLOUD CATCHERS: TURNING FOG INTO VODKA

Hey campers! Some of you may already know about this, but it's just too cool not to share. It's that time of year, June bloom, when San Francisco wakes up wrapped in a familiar blanket, Karl the Fog. While he loves to sneak in with his cool, misty hugs, we're pretty grateful to be here at camp, soaking up sunshine instead of turning into human popsicles. But don't think Karl's just hanging around to ruin picnics, he's actually been put to some pretty clever use.

Enter Fog Point, a small-batch vodka crafted by our local neighbors at Hangar 1 Distillery in Alameda. This vodka blends innovation with sustainability in the most delicious way. With help from Canadian nonprofit FogQuest, Hangar 1 installed mesh panels in foggy spots like Half Moon Bay and Sutro Tower. As the Karl rolls in, water droplets collect on the mesh and drip into tanks. Basically, nature's slow drip brew.

That fog-harvested water is blended with vodka distilled from California wine grapes, resulting in a crisp, smooth vodka with hints of pear, citrus, and honeysuckle. And don't worry, Fog Point Vodka is gluten-free, so you can toast without the trouble.

Till Happy Hour... cheers, campers!

PS: FogQuest is dedicated to providing clean water to communities in dry, rural regions using low-impact fog collectors that require no electricity. Operated entirely by volunteers, FogQuest's work has improved lives in regions like Chile, Peru, and Ethiopia. More info at www.fogquest.org

SUB-MISSIONS

Daily request for more content: please shoot us an email (twinpinespaper@gmail.com) or text (408-306-9928) with any and all Camp happenings!

And, if ya haven't already, sign up for the Pines online!

THE FUTURE IS FORTUITOUS

Aries: Blaze your trail. Just not during fire danger season.

Taurus: Mud on your boots means you're getting somewhere. Just not sure where yet.

Gemini: Two truths and a lie: You're hydrated, you're lost, this is the trail.

Cancer: Camp is seasonal. Your nickname from today is forever.

Leo: The mountain isn't going anywhere. But you might if you don't pack snacks.

Virgo: The pantry might be stocked with beans, but your spirit's got spice.

Libra: Balance your bug spray with bravery. Both are essential today.

Scorpio: You didn't ask for a sign, but you got three.

Sagittarius: That old camp song will haunt you today. Sing it loud, off-key and proud!

Capricorn: Stay rooted. Unless that's poison oak.

Aquarius: You're both the prank and the apology. Choose wisely.

Pisces: You'll talk your way out of (and into) at least three adventures today.

SOLUTION TO SUNDAY'S CROSSWORD

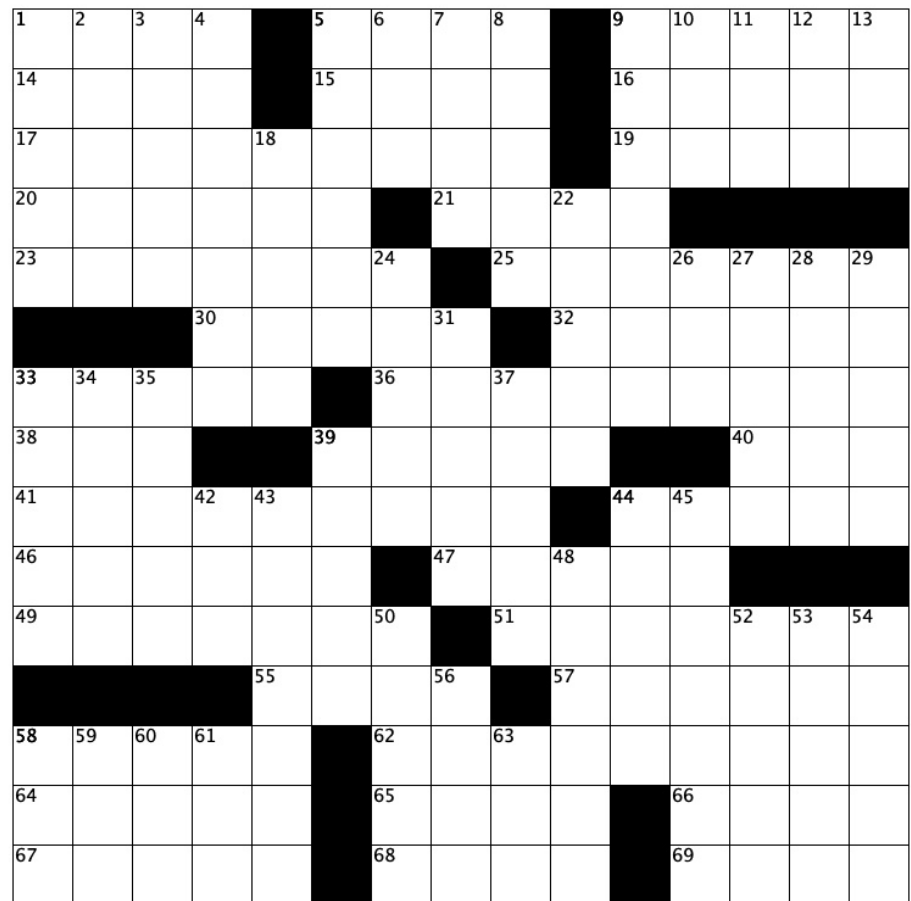

B	I	R	T	H		B	O	O	P		S	P	A
A	S	U	R	A		A	R	I	A		C	H	I
D	I	N	I	N	G	H	A	L	L		R	A	N
			G	O	E	S				E	V	O	K
	A	G	G	I	E		U	P	D	A	T	E
O	T	O	E			Z	E	R	O		P	O	S
D	O	O	R			E	E	L	S		I	N	P
E	N	D		E	R	R		H	O	D		E	R
S	A	M	O	A		I	L	E	D		S	A	N
A	L	O	N	G		L	O	R	D		T	R	E
		R	E	L	A	Y	S		S	T	E	E	D
G	U	N	M	E	N			C	O	I	T
A	S	I	A			T	A	L	E	N	T	S	H
P	E	N	N			E	R	I	N		L	O	I
E	R	G				S	E	P	T		E	N	D

ACROSS

1. On the ocean
5. Glide like a bird
9. ___, set, go
14. Reference Table Review Update (Abbr.)
15. Edit-menu command
16. Enthusiastic
17. Spiders, mites, ticks, etc.
19. Christian symbol
20. Davis and Midler
21. Part of a French door
23. Information that ruins the ending
25. Paper fasteners
30. Type of nerve
32. Most sickly
33. Ways and ___ committee
36. One of the Bronte sisters
38. Harris and Asner
39. Docking locales
40. ___ whiz!
41. This newsletter
44. Group of musical notes
46. Mountain ranges
47. Type of tea
49. "___ as it is in heaven"
51. Heavenly beings
55. Posterior
57. Entangle
58. "You had me at ___"
62. Daily Camp nonevent
64. Chinese, for example
65. Not decent
66. Singer Fitzgerald
67. Stairway elements
68. Have the lead role
69. Musical silence

DOWN

1. Saudis, for example
2. Throat ailment
3. Muse of lyric poetry
4. Thursday Camp event
5. Camp building

6. Office of Naval Intelligence (Abbr.)
7. Does sums
8. Bus rider Parks and others
9. Camp building
10. Corn unit
11. "It was twenty years ___ today..."
12. ___ Moines
13. Annual periods (Abbr.)
18. Obo and others
22. Mixes Bond's drink incorrectly
24. Toxin derived from castor beans
26. West Bank initials
27. "Take your hands off me!"
28. Type of organic chemical
29. Spirited horse
31. Nestling's call
33. DC's subway
34. Hubble, Meese, or Land
35. Tossed ___
37. British backsides
39. Fencing area
42. National Governors Association (Abbr.)
43. Individually people
44. Like dad jokes
45. Ms. Grey
48. Bee owner
50. Chemistry Nobelists Otto
52. Common laborer
53. Transports
54. He could eat no fat
56. Not loose
58. Owns
59. New York winter hours (Abbr.)
60. Tell an untruth
61. Race segment
63. Kissing on a busy ave., for example

California Condors Are Endangered

Because of threats to them that included habitat loss, power-line collisions and lead poisoning, California condors were first listed as endangered in 1967.

Wild Condors Were Brought into Captivity

Sadly, only 27 California condors remained in the wild by the mid-1980s. As a drastic measure to save the species and prevent the birds from going extinct, they were all captured and brought into captive-breeding programs at that time.

California Condors Are Making a Comeback

After the important conservation efforts, California condors were reintroduced to the wild in 1992 in three different locations: California, Arizona and Baja, Mexico. Today, you can see these birds in New Mexico, Utah and Nevada.

California Condors Are Scavengers

These resourceful birds are capable of surviving for several days without eating, but when they do, they might ingest more than 3 pounds of carrion (the flesh of dead animals).

They Can Travel Long Distances

Quite the impressive soars, California condors may log more than 200 miles per day in the air.

California Condors Are Quite Large

In the 1980s less than 30 California condors lived in the wild

With a wingspan of more than 9 feet (and weighing around 20 pounds), the California condor is the largest wild bird in North America.

Condors Can Live for Decades

California condors aren't just resourceful—they're also known to live a long time! Some can even live up to 60 years in the wild.

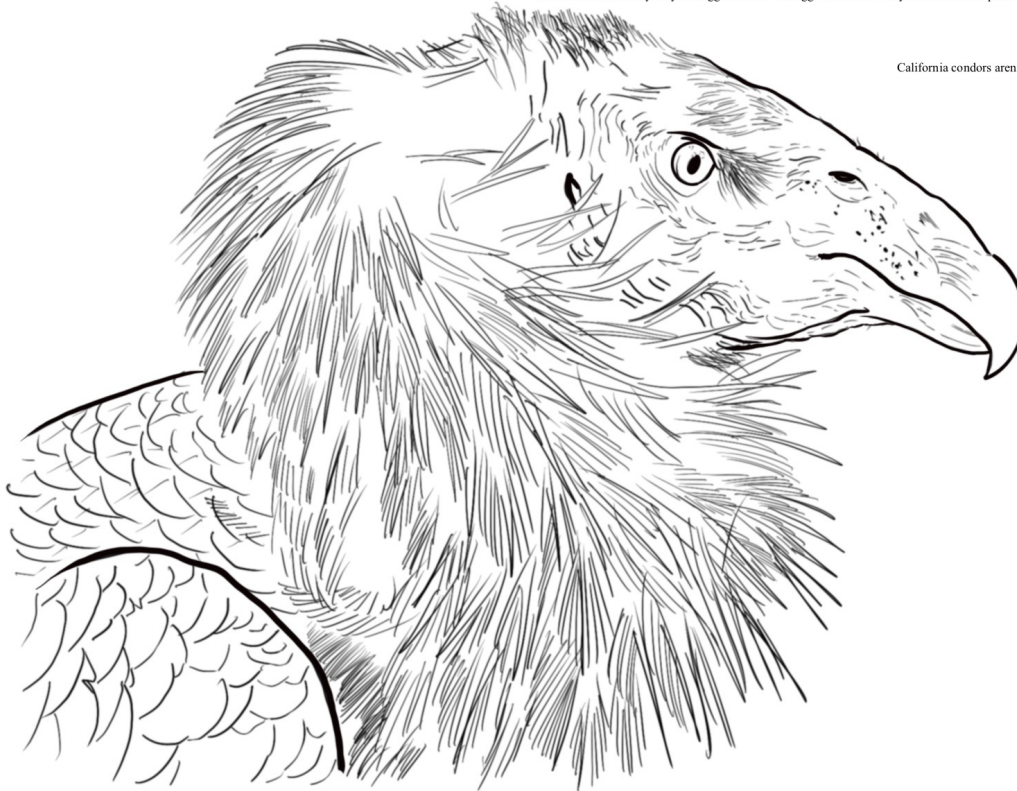

California Condor Chicks Are Special

A California condor chick that will soon fly for the first time

California condors lay only one egg at a time. The egg then takes 57 days to hatch. Both parents incubate the egg and raise the chick. Young California condors also stick with their parents for quite a long time, requiring parental care for around a year.

These Birds Nest Up High

California condors aren't afraid of heights. They nest in natural cavities in cliffs up to 6,000 feet in elevation.

California Condors